UPPER ARLINGTON, Ohio – Historic Upper Arlington shopping plaza Tremont Center will show its appreciation to the community and its customers during the 56th annual Tremont Center April Fools Celebration on Saturday, April 4.

The celebration, which will take place in the center's parking lot, will feature a free pancake breakfast and plenty of fun family entertainment. The event will be held from 8:00 to 11:00 a.m. rain or shine, and is open to the public.

"The April Fools celebration is a tradition that's as old as Tremont Center itself," said center manager Steve Hess. "It's one of the many ways our merchants show appreciation to their customers and our community, and we're looking forward to another big turnout this year."

This year's celebration will include Chris Cakes' Amazing Flying Pancakes, free coffee and donuts, a petting zoo with local farm animals, entertainment by Luke the Juggler, an autograph session with former Ohio State Buckeyes tight end Rory Nicol and enter-to-win contests for a flat-screen TV, iPod, kids' bikes and merchant gift certificates.

Opened in 1953 and located across from the Main Library in the heart of Upper Arlington, Tremont Shopping Center features more than 20 independent merchants, including such landmark local businesses as Huffman's Market, Moretti's, the Tremont Goodie Shoppe, Old Bag Of Nails Pub and the Chef-O-Nette Restaurant.
